The table above provides a representation of how Cardinal Stritch University nontraditional undergraduate business students performed on an outbound program assessment as compared to other schools accredited by the Accreditation Council of Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP). The assessment measures the student knowledge level in the core professional components as determined by ACBSP.